

Dear Graham,

Don and I met with Salvy this morning and resolved our difficulties leaving the lectern microphone problem to be sorted but Don will do that. The system was in much better shape when Salvy left that when he arrived.

So my involvement is now at an end. It only remains for me to thank you very much for designing such a magnificent lighting system for us. It has certainly transformed the church and been the source of much favourable comment. Also it has been a pleasure working with you.

I hope that things develop satisfactorily for your wife.

With kind regards,

Robert
